(Syur Salluste)

(Mamertine carcere était une prison souterraine à deux étages. Selon l'historien Salluste : « Elle contient une salle basse, nommée Tullianum, qui s'enfonce à douze pieds¹ sous terre. Elle est fermée de murs épais et couverte d'une voûte de pierre. C'est un cachot malpropre, obscur, infect, dont l'aspect a quelque chose d'effrayant et d'horrible. »)

Hannibal voit ses soldats fléchir peu à peu, certains s'éloignent du champ de bataille pour panser leurs blessures, d'autres se retirent définitivement. Il se porte partout, encourage ses hommes, abat par-ci, par-là ses adversaires, mais ses efforts demeurent vains. Désespéré, il ne pense qu'à sauver les restes de son armée. Il s'élance en avant, entouré de quelques cavaliers, se fraie un chemin et quitte le champ de bataille. Massinissa qui l'aperçoit se lance avec son groupe derrière lui. Il le presse, malgré la douleur que lui cause sa blessure, car il brûle de le ramener prisonnier. ³⁰ Dans la Rome Antique, le Triomphe (Triumphum), c'est la procession accomplie au temple de Jupiter Capitolin par un général vainqueur. Cette cérémonie, d'origine étrusque, était régie par des règles religieuses strictes. [...] Précédé par ses licteurs, le triomphateur richement vêtu et couronné de lauriers, traversait la ville monté sur un char attelé de quatre chevaux blancs. L'armée criait "io triumphe" et chantait des chansons paillardes. Suivaient les membres du Sénat, les magistrats, les prisonniers, le butin et les animaux destinés au sacrifice. Le cortège partait du Champ de Mars, hors les murs, entrait dans Rome par la porte triomphale, traversait le Circus maximus, contournait le Palatin, avant d'emprunter la Voie sacrée pour atteindre le Capitole. Parvenu au Temple de Jupiter, le général immolait lui-même les animaux destinés aux sacrifices et offrait sa couronne de lauriers au dieu....

Ce défilé était attribué par le Sénat romain, et constituait une récompense pour le général victorieux. Il pouvait avoir lieu longtemps après sa campagne. Un des critères importants était le butin rapporté, mais il ne pouvait y avoir de triomphe si l'ager romanus, le territoire de la République, n'avait pas été augmenté.

La cellule supérieure de la prison est une pièce trapézoïdale, voûtée, de 5 m sur 3 environ, reposant sur le roc, avec une hauteur de 5 m au point le plus élevé. La cellule inférieure, le Tullianum, est entièrement construite en blocs de pépérin, assemblés sans mortier, de forme conique, avec le sommet plat. Dans le roc, une ouverture de 70 cm (encore visible) la relie à la cellule supérieure. En l'absence de porte, c'est par ce trou que les condamnés étaient précipités. Sur le côté qui regarde le Forum, il y avait un égout de près de 2 m et près du mur opposé à l'égout, un puits. Les blocs de tuf utilisés ici permettent d'avancer la date de la seconde moitié du IIe siècle av. J.-C.

D'illustres personnages périrent ici – une inscription moderne gravée à droite de la porte d'entrée rappelle leur nom - comme Jugurtha, en 104 av. J.-C., pendant que défilait au Forum le cortège triomphal de son vainqueur, Marius. Notons l'humour de Jugurtha, qui une fois précipité par ses bourreaux dans le Tullianum, leur lança : «Comme votre bain est froid, Romains!» En 63 av. J.-C., les conjurés, amis de Catilina, y furent étranglés. En 46 av. J.-C., Vercingétorix y fut également étranglé après le triomphe de César.

La prison ne se composait pas seulement des deux cachots décrits. Au-delà, sur la pente du Capitole, se trouvaient d'autres pièces, les Lautumiae. Elle était encore en activité dans la dernière moitié du IVe siècle. C'est au Moyen-Age qu'elle prit le nom de Mamertine. »
